

CSO grants for Gender Equality and Social Inclusion in infrastructure

Dr Jan Edwards and Siti Fatimah

Indonesia Development Forum, Jakarta, 10-11 July 2018

Planning

CSOs representing women, people living with disabilities and other vulnerable groups can add value to infrastructure activities by adding diverse perspectives

Management

Different groups provide different insights into infrastructure activities, their management and oversight

Operations

Opportunities for economic empowerment need to be available to all people

Monitoring

Infrastructure needs to be compliant with relevant laws and regulations to facilitate access by disadvantaged groups

Benefit

Development is more sustainable when all members of communities benefit from improved access and opportunities from infrastructure activities
